Aims

- To support our students' wellbeing by encouraging them to reconsider their relationship with mobile phone technology and reducing dependency upon this
- To reduce incidents of anxiety, bullying and harassment caused by misuse of mobile phone technology during the school day
- To ensure a consistent approach to the management of mobile phones during the school day that is understood by staff and students, and applied fairly and equally to all students at all times
- To communicate our expectations clearly and routinely

Principles

- At Wilmslow High School we recognise the importance of mobile phone technology in our daily lives and the positive impact that this can have, but we have also become increasingly conscious of the negative impact that the overdependence and misuse of this technology can have on young people
- We believe that the learning, wellbeing and relationships of our students will benefit from the provision of stronger boundaries during the school day with mobile phone technology
- We recognised that self-regulation is difficult, and that the mobile phone culture is ubiquitous. Therefore, we want to support our young people by providing school rules and procedures that provide this space for them
